

Your voice really matters.

By sharing your experiences, you help make sure that young people are heard. It's a chance to have your say - even before you're old enough to vote!

Before we get started you might have a few questions.

Do I have to answer every question?

It's totally up to you. You're in control of what you want to share. You can skip any questions you don't want to answer.

Why do you ask about my thoughts and feelings?

Understanding how young people think and feel helps researchers get a better picture of what life is really like for people your age.

Who sees my answers?

Your answers are stored securely and are only used for research. Researchers do not have access to identifying information, such as your name and address, and can't identify you from what you say.

If I tell you something private, will you tell my parents?

No - your answers aren't shared with your parents. But if the interviewer is worried about your safety, they may have to tell someone who can help you. This is required by law.

What if an interviewer says or does something that makes me feel uncomfortable or scared?

End the interview immediately and tell a trusted person (such as a parent, carer, or friend) straight away. You can submit a complaint to the Roy Morgan team (1800 337 332) - however, if a crime may have been committed, always contact the Police Assistance Line (131 444).

What happens if I need to talk to someone right now?

If you're stressed, worried, or need support, you can always call Kids Helpline on 1800 551 800. It's free, confidential and available 24/7 for anyone aged up to 25.

We want you to feel safe and comfortable while completing this survey. If any question makes you feel uncomfortable, simply ask your interviewer to skip to the next question. Your responses are confidential, and no one will be able to identify you from what you say.

If you have any questions about how your identity is kept private, or if you want to know more about how we protect the information you share, you can contact us. Call Roy Morgan on 1800 337 332 or email surveys@roymorgan.com.
